COLUMBIA, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY OCT. 16, 1912.

NUMBER 50

DEATH OF A PROMINENT CITIZEN.

Former Lieutenant Governor J. R. Hindman Succumbs to the Inevitable—Crosses

OVER THE DARK RIVER OF DEATH

Last Monday morning at 8 o'clock Columbia was thrown into the deepest grief when the announcement came that Gov. J. R. Hindman had died suddenly at his residence, on Burkesville street. He had been complaining more than usual for several days before his death, but his condition was not alarming until a very short time before his demise, his wife and son, Dr. R. Y. Hindman, being at his bedside when the end came.

Gov. Hindman was seventy-three years old past, and was one of the prominent men of Kentucky. He was a man of honor and Christian character, and a leading spirit in the Methodist Church of this place. Until recent years he never failed to attend the Louisville Conference, and was a leading representative in that body.

When the war of the States broke out, he espoused the cause of the Union, enlisted in the 13th Kentucky Infantry, and was a gallant soldier, soon becoming a commissioned officer. He was in many hotly contested battles, acquitting himself with honor in every engagement. When the war closed he returned home, read law and was soon admitted to the bar.

He was a born politician, representing this county in the Legislature three or four terms, and was later elected Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, making a splendid presiding officer of the Senate, his correct ruling being complimented throughout the State. He made one race for Congress as a Democrat, and was defeated by the late Hon. Silas Adams, the district being overwhelmingly Republican.

Gov. Hindman's home life was without reproach. He stood for the right upon all occasions, and his strict integrity was a distinct characteristic of his make-up.

He was enterprising, ever ready to open his purse to objects of charity, or to any enterprise that had for its object the advancement of Columbia and Adair county.

He has gone to his reward and Columbia and his native county has been made poorer. He is survived by his son, his wife, two brothers and several sisters.

The funeral services were conducted at the Methodist Church this Tuesday afternoon by Rev. S. G. Shelton, and the local minister here, Rev. J. H. Chandler. The church building could not hold the people, and hundreds followed the remains to the cemetery. When friends withdrew from the grave the ground was covered with flowers.

May God, the giver of all that is good comfort the wife, the son and all other relatives.

The Speaking.

Mr. J. W. Hargrave, of Paducah, Ky., on the Progressive ticket in this district, addressed a small audience in Columbia, Saturday the 5th, in the interest of himself and party. As a whole, he is fairly an entertaining speaker and presented his reasons for support in a creditable manner. His criticisms of the Republican party were not pleasant in the extreme to the few Republicans who were present, and his fearful picture of Democratic power and policies tickled no one except the extreme advocates of Roosevelt or Taft. His position as to our constitution and courts reached the extreme limit when he favored their overthrow by the people at the polls. The recall of Judges and Judicial decisions and the denunciation of ignoring the constitution was the most sweeping of any man ever made in this section.

On Monday, following, Mr. J. Richardson spoke in the interest of the Republican party and while his hearers were fewer in number than Mr. Hargrave's he spoke with earnestness and enthusiasm. His criticism of the third party was enough to indicate the fearful consequences to follow the application of Roosevelt policies to our government. Both showed unmistakable signs that no hope of victory is entertained by either organization, both advised against voting for

The Fiscal Court.

The Fiscal court held its October term the first week in this month, and after the usual routine of business was transacted, Mr. Luther Fletcher, of the Breeding neighborhood, was elected poor-house keeper for the ensuing year, the allowance for each boarder being reduced to $1.25 per week. Judge Moss appointed Mr. J. N. Coffey County Road Engineer as provided by the acts of the last Legislature to take effect December the 1st, and continuing for two years on a salary of $600 per year. This appointment was unanimously confirmed by the Magistrates. We deem it proper to state that we believe a competent man has been selected, and that he will endeavor to make good to the county in the betterment of the roads, both as to grades and general condition.

No system of building roads was adopted, yet every member of the court feels that some plan ought to be inaugurated that will secure the making of a few miles of macadam road each year. It is not our purpose nor desire to encroach on the important prerogatives of the Fiscal court, but as a citizen interested in the well-being of public conditions in this county, appeared before the court and submitted the following roughly and hastily provided plans for consideration:

"Be it ordered, that:—Since the State has become interested in building good roads, and is willing to furnish an engineer to establish grades, specifications, estimates of costs and supervise the building of roads we, therefore, accept the proffered services of the commonwealth, and submit the following proposition to the people of Adair county, to wit: The Fiscal Court of Adair County, Ky., hereby agrees to pay one half of the cost of construction of first-class, macadam roads built in said county on the following conditions: Said construction is to be in accordance and under the direction of the State engineer, both as to grade and character of material; that said court will pay one half of the expense of said building, provided the citizens or persons interested in the building of said roads, will pay the other half. This proposition extends to every mile of road in Adair county. Be it known, however, that this court is limited in its powers to raise money for the purpose of building roads, and therefore it makes the above proposition on the explicit understanding that it is not prompted by the special demands of Columbia or the central part of the county, but will, in good faith, discriminate against the central part of the county in favor of any other section in which the people meet the requirements of said court. In other words the court pledges to the people of Adair county to pay one-half the cost of building macadam roads as above set forth, and further stipulates that not less than one consecutive mile will be considered, nor more than two miles on any one road in said county within the year 1913. To meet this proposition the bidders or citizens accepting the above terms must satisfy the court in its April term of their good faith and ability to pay one-half the cost of the mile or two miles of road desired, and should there be more demands than said court has the ability to meet, by its powers of taxation, then said court reserves the right to reject the overplus and use its discretion in said matter."

Since the court has secured Mr. Coffey as road engineer the assistance of the State Engineer would not be needed. We can build a mile of good road each year if the court and the people desiring good roads can meet on any reasonable terms. We would have the roads and every dollar be left with the people of the county as well.

Turning Away Positions.

Last week two calls for book-keepers, four or five for stenographers, eight or ten for commercial teachers; about the same number for combined book-keepers and stenographers; and more than twenty for telegraph operators were turned away by the Business University at Bowling Green, because that institution had exhausted its supply of young men and women who were qualified for places. Our own boys and girls had better take notice.

Mr. James T. Qualls, well known in this community, wrote his friend, Mr. J. D. Lowe of this city, that he had found his soul mate in Corbitt, Tenn., and had taken the train for

An Attempt to Assassinate Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt

(Special to The News from Courier Journal)

Former President, Theodore Roosevelt, shot in right shoulder by an assassin. Physicians say wound in not dangerous.

The shot was fired by John Shrenk, who had been following the ex-President for three weeks. Mr. Roosevelt made a speech of an hour after being shot.

Physicians issued a bullet at 12 o'clock last night, saying the wound was not dangerous. The ex-President was conveyed to New York.

All this occurred at Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The shot was fired while the ex-President was en route from his hotel to the auditorium.

Abolish the Fiscal Court.

To the special committee of the Louisville Commercial Club; which has undertaken a campaign for the abolition of the Fiscal Court, the Courier-Journal pledges heartily its interest and support. The task is one that can be accomplished, and the end in view should interest everyone in Jefferson county, who has an interest in public affairs that are his own affairs.

The Fiscal Court system is intolerable. Its history is a history of graft, wasting of public funds, neglect of public interest, scorn of public opinion. The taxpayers have been ruthlessly exploited through the medium of machinery that could never be successful in anything but providing fodder for small politicians and hungry contractors. The millions of dollars squandered upon public roads built without regard to scientific principles and upon projects undertaken in the interest of property owners enjoying a political "pull" would, if disbursed through competent and honest hands, have built model roads to every farm gate within the county boundaries.

Incompetent "spies," incompetent "engineers" and inattentive rate payers have co-operated in unthrifty that has retarded the progress of the county by keeping the public roads the greatest of public utilities, in a lamentable state of underdevelopment and disrepair. There is absolutely no hope of improvement save by abolishing the Fiscal Court system and substituting for the "squires" a compact and responsible commission composed of men chosen from the county at large and by methods that will guarantee an improvement in the quality of public service. When the question of abolishing the School Board was under discussion the then existing School Board adopted a resolution favoring abolition. Will the existing Fiscal Court do as much?—Courier-Journal.

Public Sale.

On Thursday, October 31st, 1912, at my residence in Columbia, Ky., I will sell at public auction personal property consisting of household and kitchen furniture, some farming implements, and 2 good Jersey heifers, aged 3 and 21 months respectively. The one 21 months of age has been bred to a registered Jersey bull. Terms, made known on day of sale at 10 o'clock a. m. W. B. Partonson.

For Sale.

I have a lot of household furnishings which I will sell cheap. S. N. Hargrave.

Mr. J. P. Bicknell, of Berea, was in town one day last week in the interest of the proposed pike between Columbia and Jamestown, by the way of Russell Springs. At an early day he will be in position to take subscriptions for stock in the company. Mr. Bicknell is very confident of success, and has been given much encouragement, particularly in Russell county. It is needless to say that a pike from Columbia to Cumberland river would be of much worth to the commercial interests of this county and we hope it will be built. As a dividend producer we see no reason why it would be disappointing. Make up your mind to help in this project.

Dr. U. L. Taylor has tested the water in the well on the South side of the public square and pronounces it unfit for use and full of disease germs. Those in authority should have this well cleaned of impurities or fill it with stone and dirt.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

ADAIR CIRCUIT COURT OF KY. J. L. Pelley & S. B. Conover Plffs vs. Alberta Whitworth, & Co. Deft.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of Adair Circuit Court, rendered at the September term, thereof, 1912, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the courthouse door in Columbia, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public auction, on Monday, the 4th day of November, 1912, at one o'clock p. m., or thereabout, being county court, upon a credit of six months the following described property, to wit: Two certain tracts of land situated in Adair county, Ky., on the waters of State Creek. The first tract contains 461 acres more or less, and is bounded as follows: On the South by the lands of C. S. Collins and P. W. Dohoney, on the West by the lands of P. W. Dohoney, on the East by the lands of S. B. Conover and on the North by the lands of J. H. Pelley. The second tract contains 28 acres, 1 rood and 38 square poles, and is the same tract of land on which S. B. Conover now resides. The above described tracts will be sold separately or sufficiently thereof to produce the sums of money so ordered to be made. For the purchase price, the purchaser, with approved surety or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

W. A. Coffey, Master Com.

For Sale

I will sell The Adair County News at a reasonable price and on inviting terms of payments. It is one of the best equipped country plants in the State and is doing about $7,000.00 business annually. This is a great opportunity for any enterprising young man. Outside business complications and bad health reason for selling. Write or call if you mean business.

C. S. Harris.

Public Speaking.

Hon. Z. T. Proctor, Leitchfield, will speak at the following times and places in Adair county:

Pelliston, Thursday, Oct. 21, at 10 a. m.

Ridley, Thursday, Oct. 21, at 1 p. m.

Sparksville, Friday, Oct. 25, at 10 a. m.

Miss Kate Russell, After an Illness of Five Weeks Crosses The Divide.

DEATH OF AN EXCELLENT CITIZEN.

FUNERAL SERVICE LARGELY ATTENDED

There was no better known man in Adair county than Mr. B. T. McCaffree, who served the county for many years as a surveyor. He perhaps had been on every farm in Adair, and had often been called to do work in adjoining counties. On the 5th day of this month he died at his late home, two and one-half miles from this town. One week before his demise he was on Cumberland river, surveying, and before he finished his work he was taken sick, and returned home. He told a friend, who called to see him, that he felt at one time he would not be able to reach his family alive. He lingered for six days, growing weaker all the time, and when death came it was peaceful, surrounded by his wife, children and several friends.

Bob McCaffree, as he was familiarly called, was a fine citizen, and had as many friends in Adair county as any other one man. It is needless to say that he will be greatly missed, not only by those who were near and dear to him, but by the entire county. Especially will he be missed by his neighbors and the county officers, with whom he was almost daily associated. The deceased was an ardent Baptist, and had been a member of the church at Milltown for a number of years. This body of Christian people will also miss him as he attended services often.

The funeral services were held at the residence Sunday forenoon, conducted by Rev. J. R. Crawford, a large circle of sympathizing relatives and friends being present. At 11 o'clock the remains were laid to rest in the Columbia cemetery.

A good man gone, peace to his honorable memory.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

ADAIR CIRCUIT COURT OF KY. S. A. Absher & Co. Plffs vs. J. W. Absher & Co. Deft.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of Adair Circuit Court, rendered at the September term, thereof, 1912, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the courthouse door in Columbia, Ky., to the highest bidder at public auction, on Monday, the 4th day of November, 1912, at one o'clock p. m., or thereabout, being county court, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to wit: All situated in Adair County, Ky. 3 shares of the Stephen Humphress land containing 66 acres known as lots Nos. 7, 8 and 9. A tract of land containing 5 acres lying on the waters of Green River, known as the home place, a 100 acre tract and a 13 acre tract of land lying on the waters of Blue Hole Branch of Green River known as the Murrell land, a tract of land known as the Sanders land containing 50 acres, a tract of land lying on the waters of Green River known as the Grant land, containing 84 acres. For complete description, reference is made to the judgment and order of sale of record in order book No. 13 page 165, of the Adair Circuit Court Clerk's office. I will first offer said lands in 3 lots as follows: The 3 shares Stephen Humphress land containing 66 acres together. The 5 acre tract, known as the home place, the 100 acre tract and the 43 acre tract known as the Murrell land together. The Sanders tract, the Green tract, and the Grant tract containing 122 acres together. I will then offer all the land together, and will accept the bid or bids that bring the most money, or sufficient thereof to produce the sums of money so ordered to be made. For the purchase price, the purchaser, with approved surety or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

W. A. Coffey, Master Commissioner.

Do you Need Spectacles? After about 30 days I will be away from Columbia for a while. If you need your eyes attended to now is your opportunity. S. T. Harris.

On Friday, October 3, 1912, Miss Kate Russell, one of the most prominent, yet one of the most home like ladies of Columbia, peacefully closed her eyes in death. She was in her 70th year, and her whole life was spent in Columbia and in its suburbs. She was a daughter of Jas. M. and Susan Russell, who died many years ago, and since their demise she and her brother, James M. kept house in the old homestead.

She was a devoted member of the Presbyterian Church and had been since early girlhood. She was loved by all Columbia—old and young—for her many Christian virtues. She is survived by two brothers, James M. Russell, and J. O. Russell, the former deputy postmaster, the latter a prominent merchant.

The funeral services were conducted at her late home on Jamestown street, Saturday afternoon following, by her pastor, Rev. J. R. Crawford. There were many friends and relatives present, all being deeply touched by the solemn and impressive words spoken by the pastor. At the close of which the remains were borne to the city cemetery, followed by a large concourse of sorrowful friends.

There were many beautiful floral designs.

A Card of Thanks.

Tobias Huffaker and family hereby desire to express their heartiest thanks for the kindness shown, the warm hearted assistance given, and the expressions of sympathy tendered, during their recent distress and bereavement. All that kind and good neighbors could do was done. Such a generous outflow of milk of human kindness tends to raise one's estimate of humanity and does much to make such an hour of sorrow bright.

Russell Springs.

John H. Womack, who bought Mrs. Ermine Wilson's stock of goods, two weeks ago, is doing a good business. By the way Mr. Womack, who was thought six weeks ago, to be in bad health has entirely recovered.

The Bank at this place is doing a fine business. Mr. Robt. Ingram, who is the cashier, is a very courteous gentleman, and has made many warm friends throughout this section. He has some of the best customers in Russell county.

A number of the citizens of this place are contemplating putting down concrete before cold weather sets in. The main side walks should also be concreted and every body would be glad to see the work commenced.

F. L. Wilson has just returned from the Louisville market

Mrs. Ermine Wilson is clerking for the Supply Co. She would be glad to meet her old customers at her new place of business.

Mr. J. C. Popplewell, who bought Mr. J. E. Snow's interest in the store in which they were partners, has made some changes in the manner of conducting the business, and his trade is very satisfactory.

Jamestown.

The sheriff and his deputies are riding over the county daily, getting ready for the approaching term of circuit court which will convene here the third Monday in this month.

The corn crop along Cumberland river is unusually large. Perhaps there will be more gathered than for many years in the past at any one season.

The wheat crop of Russell turned out fairly well. This is not a large wheat county, but the quality this year is extra good. The Irish potato crop is immense.

There is decidedly more fruit in the county this year than for several seasons in the past. As a result, several brandy distilleries are in operation. Some people who do not believe in the liquor business, are drying their fruit, and in the end will probably get more for it than those who are selling to the distillers.

The Odd-Fellows Hall is progressing nicely and in a short time will be ready for occupancy.

Grading and rocking the square is not progressing as fast as our people would like, but keeping everlastingly at it, the end will be reached some time in the future. Enterprise is what this town needs. A few live men could soon make Jamestown a good business point. The trouble with our citizens is, that too much time is taken up in watching our neighbors grow, instead of doing something to cause our own bailywick to come to the front.

So far as I know all the schools of the county are being well attended—better than usual.

If you have young children you have perhaps noticed that disorders of the stomach are their most common ailment. To correct this you will find Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets excellent. They are easy and pleasant to take, and mild and gentle in effect. For sale by Paull Drug Co.

Rev. W. A. Grant,

Rev. W. A. Grant Methodist, minister in charge of the Hodgenville and Buffalo churches, left Tuesday for Morganfield where he will attend the Conference.

Before leaving, Bro. Grant stated to a representative of the Herald that he did not know whether he would be returned to his present charge or not. The Conference will result in a number of changes and whether he will be among those placed in other towns will not be known until the meeting adjourns.

Since his residence here, Bro. Grant has done a great work for good, and has built up his churches in a manner that deserves the highest praise. But it is always these good men that are taken away from charges that they have labored earnestly in and have built up, and placed again with another heavy burden on their hands only to remove that and shoulder another. His hard and conscientious work here could have done nothing only attract the notice of those higher up in the affairs of the church and while nothing can be said for certain, it is doubtful if Bro. Grant will be returned to this charge.

During the time in which he has had the Hodgenville and Buffalo churches in his charge, about 38 new members have been added, over four thousand dollars has been raised, and other work, which, while as important as these, is not so easily visible. Bro. Grant has kept his members enthused with the work, has built up Sunday Schools, increased the attendance at prayer meetings. He has done such work that it will be a great loss to the members of the two churches to give him up. He will remain away about a week or ten days after which he will return to his home here to stay or to make preparation to go elsewhere. His friends and co-workers are all devoutly wishing for the former.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Rev. Grant is a native of Adair county. He was educated at Columbia, and like all other Adair county boys, who have left home, is making his mark.

A Log on the Track.

Of the fast express means serious trouble ahead if not removed, so does loss of appetite. It means lack of vitality, loss of strength and nerve weakness. If appetite fails, take Electric Bitters quickly to overcome the cause by toning up the stomach and curing the indigestion. Michael Hessler of Lincoln, Neb., had been sick over three years, but six bottles of Electric Bitters put him right on his feet again. They have helped thousands. They give pure blood, strong nerves, good digestion. Only 30 cents at Paull Drug Co.

New Paper Cups For Jelly.

The new paper sanitary tumblers which have just come out ought to be hailed with delight by the modern housekeeper especially at preserving times. These little vessels are made from spruce pulp. They are treated with aseptic qualities at the mill before being packed in cartons and shipped to the various stores and in these cartons sold to the housekeeper, so the only thing she has to do is to break the seal and the jelly jars are ready for use.

They are so inexpensive that they may easily be thrown away at the end of the winter season. Each tumbler is treated with a wax process which enables the jelly to slip out as easily as from a glass jar.

Little round lids come for covering the vessels and slip into a small groove at the top. The hot liquor can be poured directly into these paper tumblers.

Will Deliver Poultry.

Live chicks, ducks and geese, as well as eggs and general farm and garden products will be admitted for transportation by parcels post along with other merchandise, when it is instituted on January 1. This has been decided by the special commission which is preparing the regulations by which to govern the parcels post service. The schedule is to be so arranged that city dwellers may get fresh eggs and butter, chickens and other products direct from the farm by mail. This will be an important feature of parcels post. Eggs and chickens as produce are carried by the posts of European nations, and the same conditions will apply here. Not only will the government carry these things, but an indemnity will be provided for their loss or damage in transit. Farmers will be able to supply their trade in the city direct, without even hitching up a team and making the journey to town. This will save them the major expense of marketing goods, as well as saving time and money both to the consumer and producer. It is possible the parcels post will prove to be a novel means of cutting the high cost of living.

PREVENTION OF DIPHTHERIA.

Circular Issued by the State Board of Health of Kentucky.

To the Health Officials, Physicians and People of Kentucky:

The unusual prevalence of diphtheria in many sections of the State, makes it the duty of this Board to again call attention to the best known methods of preventing the occurrence and spread of this disease.

1. Diphtheria is both contagious and infectious, and is distinctly a preventable disease, being easily limited to the first case or cases. When it gets away from the primary cases and makes its escape upon the community somebody is to blame. The sooner we accept this as a sanitary maxim the sooner we shall begin to do our duties as individuals and communities.

2. On account of its frequency and fatality this disease is of far more importance to the people of Kentucky than smallpox, yellow fever or cholera.

3. When a child has sore throat, and especially if diphtheria is in the neighborhood, it should be immediately separated from other children until a competent physician has seen it and decided whether or not it is affected with a contagious disease.

4. If diphtheria, strictly isolate the case at once, in an up stairs room if possible, and as disconnected as practicable from the living and sleeping apartments of other children. No one except the physician and nurse should enter the room, and they should take every precaution not to carry the infection to others.

5. The board urges the hypodermic use of a standard antitoxin, such as Alexander's, in at least 5,000-unit doses, as soon as the disease is recognized or seriously suspected, and that this dose should be repeated or doubled within twelve hours unless marked improvement has taken place. If case is seen after the first twenty-four hours use from 7 to 25,000 unit: the first dose, depending upon severity. It recommends that immunizing doses of 1000 units be used for all children, and especially for all inexperienced relatives acting as nurses, who have been seriously exposed.

6. Placard the house, and keep all other children, all having the care of children, and all who go where children are, away from it. Notify the health officer of the town or county within twenty-four hours, as the law requires, and he will co-operate with the physician and family to keep the disease from spreading.

7. The discharge from the mouth and nose, which especially contain the germs of the disease, should be received on soft cloths and burned, and other discharges should be disinfected, and all refuse from the sick room burned. All utensils used in feeding the sick should be washed separately from other dishes, and should remain some time in boiling water.

8. Disinfect all bed and body clothing, and other like things, as soon as removed, by immersion for at least six hours in a solution of chloride of lime, four ounces to the gallon of water.

They may then be wrung out and put in the wash. Remember, however, that no disinfectant in the occupied sick room can do away with the necessity for abundant fresh air and sunlight.

9. The isolation of the patient should continue for ten days after all trace of the disease has disappeared, and until he has had a disinfecting bath and been clad in garments which have not been in the sick room. No person from a house where there is diphtheria should be permitted to go into public assemblies, and no child from a house where this disease has prevailed should be allowed to attend school without a certificate from a health officer that it is safe to do so.

10. After complete recovery, or death, always thoroughly disinfect the room and its contents, preferably with nascent formaldehyde, or where this is not available, by burning three pounds of sulphur, moistened with alcohol, for each 1,000 cubic feet of space, previously stopping all openings, and dampening the floor, bedding and clothing and leaving the room tightly closed for twelve hours. The room should then be thoroughly ventilated, and all ledges, wood-work, etc., washed with strong soap and rinsed with a disinfecting solution.

11. In case of death the body should be wrapped in a sheet saturated in a disinfecting solution and buried without public service. In giving notice of death newspapers should state that it was from diphtheria, and that children, and those having the care of children, should not attend the funeral.

12. To be effective the precautions herein suggested should be rigidly observed. Imperfect isolation and disinfection are worse than useless, giving rise only to a false and misleading sense of security.

13. County and municipal boards of health have full authority under our laws to enforce these rules, and will fall short of their duty if they fail to do so.

14. Arrangements have been perfected under which county or city boards of health may procure Alexander's antitoxin at wholesale prices through this Board. A constant supply of fresh antitoxin is always on hand at Bowling Green. Details furnished upon application.

Copies of this circular, and of similar ones in regard to scarlet and typhoid fever and consumption for free distribution, may be had upon application to the Board at Bowling Green.

By order of the Board.
William Bailey, M. D., Pres.
J. N. McCormack, M. D. Sec.

Committed to Memory.
The concluding paragraph of Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance ought to be committed to memory by every student of government. Here it is:

"Should I be entrusted with the great office of president, I would seek council wherever it could be had upon free terms: I know the temper of the great convention which nominated me; I know the temper of the country that lay back of that convention and spoke through it. I heed with deep thankfulness the message you bring me from it. I feel that I am surrounded by men whose principles and ambitions are those of true servants of the people. I thank God and will take courage."

Backward.

Backward, turn backward, oh time, in your flight; feed me on gruel again just for to night. I am so weary of sole-leather steak, petrified biscuit and galvanized cake; oysters that sleep in a watery bath, and butter as strong as Goliath of Gath. Weary of paying for what I can't eat chewing up rubber and calling it meat.

Backward, turn backward, how weary I am; give me a swipe at grandmothers jam; let me drink milk that hasn't been skimmed, let me eat butter whose whiskers are trimmed; let me once more have an old-fashioned pie, then I'll be ready to curl up and die—
Scottish Rite Bulletin.

Fresh Eggs Will Bring Cash.

The man, whether he lives in the city, in the village, or in the country, who has fresh eggs and tender poultry need never worry as to whether there will be a market for his products. No matter what other things may be subject to fluctuation, there is always an immediate market for fresh eggs. They can be turned into money within a very short time after they are produced, and this fact of itself is enough to put a solid foundation under the poultry business. You can begin the business in a small way and build up, turning your produce from day to day into money without any trouble at all. The bigger your business grows, the more you become interested. Start right, and don't overreach yourself and you are bound to make a success. Others are doing it every day, and what others can do you can do.

Fortunes in Faces.

There's often much truth in the saying "her face is her fortune," but its never said where pimples, skin eruptions, blotches, or other blemishes disfigure it. Impure blood is back of them all, and shows the need of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They promote health and beauty. Try them. 25 cents at Paul Drug Co.

The Men Who Succeed

As heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, to-day, demands health. To all is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with Rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50 cents at Paul Drug Co.

Timely Seed Corn Hints.

At this particular season it is well to have the attention not only of the members of agricultural clubs, but also of the general farmers, call to the importance of getting a good supply of seed corn for next year. The fat of next years corn crop will be largely determined by the action taken by the farmer within the next few days. Seed corn testing is highly important, and should not be neglected, but it well to remember that unless seed corn is properly cared for, the test next Spring will only reveal the sad fact that the seed corn is very poor and that a perfect stand cannot be assured.

There are a good many things to take into consideration in selecting seed corn. These points concern not only the ear itself but the stalk upon which it was grown; hence it is desirable that the seed corn should be selected from the field before the corn is cut if possible.

Seed corn should be selected in the fall just as it is coming to maturity. Select well developed ears growing upon well developed and vigorous stalks, and for the same maturity. Mark them and allow them to mature.

Do not select large ears from stalks that have grown in hills by themselves, that have been extremely favored in the way of rich spots, or have been favored in regard to moisture present, but prefer those that have produced most heavily when going under average conditions. Other things being equal, select ears from short, thick stalks rather than from tall slender ones, as the latter are more likely to be blown down. Never select an ear that is extremely long of shank, but rather select one of a medium shank with the tip pointing downward at an angle of about 45 degrees. Prefer ears that do not have a gross, coarse, heavy husk.

Those boys' and girls' clubs that have come under the direction of the State University Extension Division of the College of Agriculture have noticed that they were designated "Agricultural Club", and not "Corn Club." The reason for this is that boys' and girls' clubs in their respective counties should be fixed organizations through which many good things may be taught to them and other people, the club itself being a working factor to put into operation those things proposed by the director of the work. In this connection a hand book of instructions has been prepared for these clubs, including certain definite exercises in corn growing and domestic science.

The work of instructing and looking after these clubs has recently been provided for on a better basis than ever before, and as good as your work has been in the past it is hoped that it may be made better in the near future. Under the new arrangement the extension work for the University has been divided into three sections, all operating under one head. The boys' and girls' club work has been assigned as a division to Dr. Fred Mutchler, of Bowling Green, Ky., stationed at the Western Normal School.

Co-operation is now being lent by the Federal Government, and by various individuals and corporations interested. Letters regarding club work should be sent to Dr. Mutchler directly.

No club should neglect this year to have a good show of various farm products, as the crops have been fine. Assistance in such undertaking will be freely given on application to the Extension Division.

Supt. Extension Division,
College of Agriculture,
Lexington, Kentucky.

CAUSE AND REMEDY.

Uncertainty of the immediate future is looked upon by many men as a blockade to enterprise and business prosperity, and a blockade is now quite apparent throughout the channels of trade. The Presidential Election; the fights of Congress with no fixed issue; Organized Labor as a new factor in politics; together with other matters of greater or less import, represent at this time a chaotic conflict of separate interests to harmonize which is now the problem before the country.

All want Prosperity, Peace and Plenty. Read with care the Cincinnati Enquirer, a journal that prints all the news each day from every commercial center throughout the world. A barometer of causes and effects that points out, as a Beacon Light, the danger and the safeguard therefrom.

As well known, the Daily Enquirer is the largest in size and highest priced paper in the United States, yet cheapest, measured by quality and quantity.

The Weekly Enquirer, with the cream and digest of all the news, able and conservative editorials, market reports, methods and results from Government and State Experiment Stations, literary matters, People's Forum, choice literature, short and continued stories, non-fictional sermons, general information, etc., with the inclusion of all matters of world and immortality, is today the Cheapest Weekly Family Journal obtainable. Each is not only worth the price of a year's subscription.

Subscribers for a year will receive a handsome present and increase the good influence of the Enquirer in the light of morality and industry, and for the betterment and welfare of the community. For terms write to The Enquirer, Cincinnati, Ohio.

To get winter eggs in abundance, the stock should have the right care now so as to get through the month in good thrifty condition and be ready when cold weather comes to convert the extra feed into eggs instead of feathers, and to withstand the winter's trials.

Before making the change, if it is desired to keep part of them over, the eggs should be set in a warm place, and the hens are the ones to set, and retain the ones with them. The latter are most certain to be in better laying condition.

A political prophet is a man who thinks he sees that which is to happen, but the truth is most men feel rather than see in making predictions.

We can not see nor understand why intelligent men in this part of the commonwealth, who are opposed to the election of Pres. Taft, should accept Mr. Roosevelt and his theories in preference to Mr. Wilson and his platform. On the supposition that the Democratic candidate and platform fail to measure up to the fullest degree of a real progressive, it is certain that neither of the two contain any features of disruption to our government. In the Progressive demands can be found the doctrine of recall of judicial decisions, of president and the claim that we can do better without a constitution than with one.

Our country with no constitutional limit to legislation would soon be beyond the pale of hope. With the overthrow of Judges not even good laws could be enforced. The doctrine of pitching the constitution to the winds and the destruction of the judiciary ought to be well and thoroughly weighed by every intelligent man before accepting it. We had better suffer some bad decisions than destroy our courts; we had better accept some bad laws under a constitution than take chances in legislation without limit. The constitution is the only law made by people. It says to Legislatures you can not go beyond and when such trespasses occur the court annuls them. As it is now our people and institutions are protected from visions laws both by constitutional limitations and judicial supervision. Certainly not perfect in its operation but not destructive of general good.

Personal

Mrs. Ray W. Page is visiting relatives at Bradfordsville and Lebanon this week.

Mrs. J. A. McGee and Mrs. T. J. Lawhorn, of Burkesville, spent Tuesday night in Columbia on their way to Campbellsville to visit relatives.

Miss Mary Miller spent the weekend with the Misses Wilkerson of Liberty, Ky.

Prof. W. L. Stearnman of Russell Springs spent Sunday in Columbia.

Miss Mollie Jeffries, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Ernest Jeffries, of Va. again, New Mexico, for the past three months, returned home Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Tindgeon and little son, Court, of Cave Valley, visited the family of Mr. Geo. E. Wilson a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. John McFarland, visited in Russell county last week.

Mrs. Mattie Vaden and her son, Paul, who will make their home in Frankfort with Attorney General Garnett and Mrs. Garnett, left for that city the latter part of last week. They carried the best wishes of the people of this community.

Mrs. Hyde, mother of Miss Rose Hyde, arrived in Columbia a few days ago and will make her home here while her daughter is teaching.

Mr. Julius Slapp, who has been in bad health for a year, was in town a few days ago, looking as though he was gaining his health.

Mrs. Leo Baldouf and little son, left for their home, in Elizabethtown, a few days ago.

Mrs. J. S. Rose and children, who have been visiting in Nashville, Tenn., for the past two weeks, returned home last Sunday.

Mr. Aedies Bosch, of Russell Springs section who has been engaged in agricultural pursuits in Illinois for the last two or three years is now at home for a visit of short duration. Meeting the News man at the Columbia Hotel he gave him two ears of yellow corn, the improved yellow dent and the Long John. Both varieties will be beautifully tested next year.

Mr. M. Gravens, is visiting his mother at Middlesboro.

Mrs. C. M. Barnett is visiting in Evansville, Ind.

The Columbia Spoke Company opened up its yards for the reception of spoke timber last Thursday, and offered $5 for the first load delivered on that day, and $5 for the load that brought the most money. This was advertised in the News and considerable interest was worked upon short notice. When the clock struck 12 on Wednesday night the rush was made which resulted in three teams tying for the first on the yards, which were B. L. Conover, Mr. Hays, of Russell county, and Elzy Young, and the money was equally divided. The premium for the most valuable load was awarded Mr. Young, which brought $25.12. It was a splendid opening, and we predict the enterprise will be of much value to this section. The machinery will start at an early day.

Graded School Notes.

The average daily attendance of the Columbia city school and the Adair county High school for the month of September was 175. The total enrollment for the same month was 201.

From the beginning, the school has had a constant, steady growth. She has an energetic, thorough going corps of teachers, who have the interest of the children at heart.

All children, who reach the high standard of 90 per cent in each subject, and in deportment, for each month, will have their names entered on the Honor Roll of school. This constitutes the publication of these names in the city paper, and the list to be filed with the records of the school, in honor roll.

For the purchase price, the purchaser, with approved surety or securities, must execute Bond, bearing legal interest from date of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

W. A. Coffey Master Commissioner.

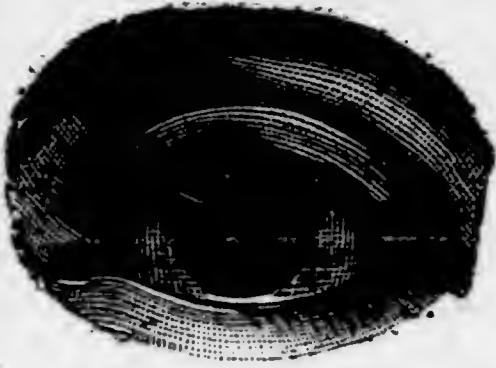

Rev. J. W. Weldon, bade his many friends here adieu last week and left for his Louisville charge. Rev. Weldon is a popular minister, and his departure from Columbia was generally regretted. It is hoped that he will find time to pay Columbia an occasional visit.

Dr. J. R. McCullum, Optometrist

Will Be At

Paull Drug Co's.

One Week Commencing Oct. 15, 1912

And will make Scientific Examinations of all Classes of Defective Vision and furnish Glasses properly Fitted for same. This is a good opportunity to have your Eyesight made perfect.

See My Window Display.

Do you suffer with headache? Are you nervous and irritable? Do your eyes water, ache and burn?

Are your eyes inflamed and the lids swollen? Do you have difficulty in seeing at a distance? Does print blur and become indistinct when reading? These are only a few symptoms of defective eyes, which can be relieved by properly fitted glasses, but if neglected often result in chronic or incurable diseases. Defective eyes neglected and improperly fitted glasses are the primary cause of more blindness than all other causes combined. So be very careful in the selection of your glasses. Have them fitted by a specialist.

Do Not Suffer Headache

Dizziness, Nervousness or Watery Eyes Cured.

You have probably been thinking of getting glasses and kept putting it off. Why not come in during this sale and get correctly fitted.

If you wear glasses now that don't suit your eyes, or if they no longer give good vision, come in and let me change your lenses. It will only take a little of your time and money and we guarantee all work.

If you want to exchange your old glasses for new glasses. Invisible Bifocals, call and let me save you money.

SPECIAL--Genuine Shur-On Mounting Special

The genuine, dainty finger-piece nose glass mounting. Requires only two fingers to adjust. Instantly applied; instantly removed. Fits close over the nose. The neatest, smallest mounting made. Defy wind storms. Can't drop off or topple over. Adjusted to your own lenses while you wait.

Don't Wear Wrong Glasses and Ruin Your Eyes.

My scientific examination is FREE and glasses are made to order to exactly suit each eye after I test it. They are bound to be right—bound to make you see better, feel better and ward off all that future trouble.

NOTICE—My frames and lenses are made by the American Optical Company. They occupy the same place in the optical trade as Rogers Bros. 1847, do in the Silver line; as Elgin and Waltham do in watch business, and are guaranteed by the manufacturer to wear TEN YEARS. All Standard styles of frames.

Do you have to hold your paper farther away to read? Come in and let me change your glasses. I sell lenses for any frame.

I Really

Test Your Eyes

THEN MAKE

Glasses to Order

My Examination is different. It is thorough, careful, expert and SCIENTIFIC. Our glasses strengthen, soothe and rest the eyes. They remove all strain—stop all twitching and burning. They magnify and restore the normal vision. You can read the finest print. No matter how dim your sight, come to me. Let me test the glasses you wear now. If wrong they can do you great harm.

Announcement.

Mr. Geo. R. Miller, of this place, who has been a traveling man for quite a number of years, at present out of Cincinnati, will be married to Mrs. Anna Fink Beard, in the city of Louisville on Thursday, the 14th of November. Last Sunday the Louisville Times published a handsome picture of the intended bride. The groom to be is a very popular gentleman.

Feese Resigns

E. L. Feese, who for several weeks has been an employee of the News, resigned his position Saturday and has accepted one with a prominent job-printing firm in Cincinnati. We are indeed sorry to lose Mr. Feese, for he is a first class printer, one of the fastest we have ever known, and is well known and popular in this city. The News wishes him success.—The McCreary County News.

Valuable Land For Sale.

I have 165 acres of good land, in three tracts which I will sell privately at a bargain. Two tracts are in Green county, near the Adair line, one in Adair near the Green county line. Good dwelling on one tract, and I am using all three tracts as one farm. Will sell any one, or all three of the tracts.

Announcement to Temperance Voters.

The petition for placing the names of the prohibition presidential electors on the official ballot for the November election was filed in due time, with more than the number of names required by law. So the prohibition ticket will be duly placed on the official ballot, and all persons desiring to vote against the liquor traffic will have an opportunity to do so by casting a vote for Eugene W. Chaffin and Aaron S. Watkins for president and vice president.

Tobias Huffaker.

Mr. J. B. Coffey who has a position with the Fire Insurance Department of this state is on an inspection tour in Southern part of the state. He is a painstaking man, of good judgment and will measure justice, as he sees it, to his employer and to other parties as well. We have received a letter from him in which he states that the work appeals to him and he is therefore determined to measure up to a high standard in his line.

Few, if any, medicines have met with the uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The remarkable cures of colic and diarrhoea which it has effected in almost every neighborhood have given it a wide reputation. For sale by Paull Drug Co.

The implicit confidence that many people have in Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is founded on their experience in the use of that remedy and their knowledge of the many remarkable cures of colic, diarrhoea and dysentery that it has effected. For sale by Paull Drug Co.

Geo. H. Nell and Bruce Taylor bought W. H. Wilson's stock of groceries, last week, and are now in position to meet the demands made on a first class grocery. Both gentlemen are experienced in business and contemplate quite an increase in the well supplied house which they bought.

Mr. W. B. Harris, of Berea, Ky., representing the Equity Fertilizer Co., of Cincinnati was in this city last Thursday. His goods will be on the market here next Spring.

A Growing School.

The September enrollment of the Bowling Green Business University exceeded that of last September by 50 per cent, but better still, the institution is called upon every month for a greater number of bookkeepers, stenographers, and operators than it can furnish. Now is a good time for young people to enter business life.

Notice.

Deborah has appeared in several places in the community and has not developed into an epidemic at any one place, and has been very feebly contagious. We have had a few cases in town, and I have been spoken in by several to suspend the general school for a time. My answer always is, that the school is about the safest place in the community. If the parents will send their children to school and not permit them to run on the streets, I consider them in no danger of getting the disease.

Oct. 10, 1912. F. L. Taylor,
Health Officer.

Rev. J. H. Chandler and his two daughters arrived here last Thursday afternoon and were received by a number of friends at the parsonage, who had prepared an inviting supper. Sunday forenoon and evening Rev. Chandler preached two interesting sermons at the Methodist Church, convincing his hearers that he was a minister of ability.

Mr. W. H. Wilson who sold his business last week to Messrs. Nell & Taylor extends his thanks to his many friends and patrons and requests that all indebted to him call and settle as he needs the money.

Remember the stock sale of A. S. Chewning next Wednesday, the 23rd. He will also sell some household furniture, such as carpets, bedsteads, various articles desired in good homes.

Don't miss A. S. Chewning's sale on the 23rd if you want to buy good horses, cattle, hogs, harness or household furniture. Sale begins at 10 a. m.

The Glasgow Times of last week makes the following statement: Mr. Bob Young has sold his big farm in the edge of Burkesville to Messrs. Gran Stephens and J. E. Coe for $10,000.

The Perfect Laxative For Elderly People

Age has its attractions no less than youth in a more serene and quieter life. But it is this very life of rest without sufficient exercise that brings with it those disorders that arise from inactivity. Chief of these are a chronic, persistent constipation.

Most elderly people are troubled in this way, with accompanying symptoms of belching, drowsiness after eating, headaches and general lassitude. Frequently there is difficulty of digesting even light food. Much mental trouble ensues, as it is hard to find a suitable remedy. First of all the advice may be given that elderly people should not use salts, cathartic pills or powders, waters or any of the more violent purgatives. What they need, women as well as men, is a mild laxative tonic, one that is pleasant to take and yet acts without griping.

The remedy that fills all these requirements, and has in addition tonic properties that strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of elderly people use, to the exclusion of all other remedies. Trustworthy people like A. B. Tigrett, Oaklawn Farm, Newbern, Tenn., and Mrs. Lizzie S. Brooks, Paris, Ky., say they take it at regular intervals and in that way not only maintain general good health, but that they have not in years felt as good as they do now. You will do well to always have a bottle of it in the house. It is good for all the family.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Saturday Night.

The man who goes down town Saturday night and sees the lighted streets, illuminated stores and throngs of happy people perhaps does not stop to think what pays for it all. It is not paid for by taxation, for if so, it would be a burden. It is not paid for by contribution, or possibly for that would not be practicable. But it all costs money, and something must pay for it. It is paid for by the money that is spent at home. The merchants re-invest their profits largely in better stocks, better stores, and better facilities. They pay their share of the cost of paving the street and laying the sidewalks, in doing many things. So it is plain to be seen that what people enjoy on Saturday night is paid for by themselves, is their money returned to them in the shape of a better town.

When you go into a local store and buy goods from a local merchant, you do not get only the goods, you get the thrifty town, the paved streets, the schools which your children attend the churches which preserve the moral atmosphere of the community, the things you enjoy and use, which you and the merchant and the manufacturer pay for in common. You can send the money to some other town and get the goods; but you can't get these other things and, even if you think the price is smaller, it is larger in the long run, since you get less in return for your money.

It is plainly evident, then, that more of your money you spend at home, the more you will get for your money, the quicker will the cross-roads become a village and the community a town with all of the conveniences and none of the inconveniences of the metropolis. The more money you spend at home in patronizing local merchants, in building a house for yourself, in investing in real estate, in dressing better and living better and feeling better, the more you will be able to have and to enjoy these things.

I keep on hand a full stock of collars and cuffs, also robes, 2 hearses. Prompt service night or day. Phone 29.

Old Riddles.

When may a man call his wife "honey?" When she has a large comb in her head.

Who was the first to swear in this world? Eve. How so? When Adam asked her if he might take a kiss, she said, I don't care A dam if you do.

How can it be proved that a horse has six legs? He has fore legs in front and two behind.

Why is a gun like a jury? Because it goes off when discharged.

What is that, if you use it well will look at everybody; but if you scratch its back it will look at nobody? A looking glass.

Why had Eve no fear of the measles? Because she'd Adam (had-em).

At what age should a man marry? At the parsonage.

Young Women

Read what Cardui did for Miss Myria Engler, of Faribault, Minn. She says: "Let me tell you how much good Cardui has done me. As a young girl, I always had to suffer so much with all kind of pain. Sometimes, I was so weak that I could hardly stand on my feet. I got a bottle of Cardui, at the drug store, and as soon as I had taken a few doses, I began to feel better. Today, I feel as well as anyone can."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

Are you a woman? Then you are subject to a large number of troubles and irregularities, peculiar to women, which, in time, often lead to more serious trouble. A tonic is needed to help you over the hard places, to relieve weakness, headache, and other unnecessary pains, the signs of weak nerves and over-work. For a tonic, take Cardui, the woman's tonic. You will never regret it, for it will certainly help you. Ask your druggist about it. He knows. He sells it.

There are no elevators running up and down the ladder of fame.

He is never without dignity, who considers the dignity of others.

Nothing can happen in this world which will rob a man of what he is.

You can't judge a man by the clothes his wife wears. She may earn them herself.

A woman always remembers how foolish she was when she was young; a man never.

A man can lead any woman to talk, but he can't always make her say what he wants to hear.

Garden and Farm Notes.

Topping corn serves to materially reduce the yield.

A hive of bees makes a delicious thing to have about.

There is little practical benefit resulting from the use of a mulch with wheat.

Early oats almost invariably yield more heavily than late oats.

The use of a tile under four inches in diameter is not to be recommended.

Spraying potatoes with Bordeaux mixture is a preventive of potato blight.

Any impervious covering will check but not entirely prevent deterioration of silage.

Get that piece ready for alfalfa. Better double disk it again just for good luck.

You can not keep your farm permanently productive without the use of legumes.

Don't put in the alfalfa seed too deep; and remember to roll it well after sowing.

A barnyard full of manure never produced a big corn crop until it was spread on the field.

Tobacco uses up a large amount of plant food and for that reason should be heavily fertilized.

Comfort in Traveler's Tea.

In traveling both at home and abroad, there is great comfort in your own cup of tea. On the steamer, particularly, you miss your own brand and the well-versed traveler who is wise in the lore of creature comforts never wanders far from home without her tea caddy. It adds greatly to her popularity. "O, if I only had a good cup of tea," is the general cry on shipboard and then this far-sighted woman produces the cheering leaves, and she becomes the center of attraction, and has her little coterie every afternoon. There are some who prefer it for the morning meal, too, instead of the usual mediocre coffee with condensed milk.

For this poignant need of the traveler, a charming little tea box of mahogany containing a small silver tea caddy and a little tea ball, reproducing a miniature tea kettle, has been put upon the market. It is very simple in arrangement, compact, and easy to pack and makes a really practical gift.

There are many places on the continent where good tea is a real luxury, and many an unsophisticated American is astonished when she pays her bill for what she considers a very simple repast. She finds that her cup of tea costs more than a very elaborate dessert, and so it is a great economy as well as comfort to carry your own tea with you.

Little leaks around a poultry plant lead to large losses.

Knavery may serve a turn, but honesty is best in the end.

Keeping things clean is much easier than cleaning things.

The winter-egg-laying hen is not a thing to be hoped for—she is a reality.

There is a great difference between keeping a bunch of chickens and making chickens keep you.

The poultry business requires just as careful and thoughtful management as any other business, and when such intelligent care is given, the results are as certain as in any other line of work.

Who Will be President.

The man, who receives a majority of all the electoral votes, will be President. Should neither candidate receive a majority of all the electoral college, then the election of President will go to the House of Representatives and that of Vice President of the Senate.

In the House, the members do not vote as individual members, but each state has one vote, that one vote to be controlled by a majority of the members from that state. Now it so happens just at this time that the House is evenly divided. The Democrats control 22 states and the Republican 22 states. Four states are tied; Main being represented by two Democrats and two Republican. Nebraska by three democrats and three republicans. New Mexico and Rhode Island each by one democrat and one republican. In the election of President, the House is restricted to the three candidates receiving the highest number of electoral votes.

In the election of the Vice President, the Senate is restricted to the two candidates receiving the highest number of electoral votes.

Should the House fail to elect a President, then the Vice President elected by the Senate becomes the President, automatically.

If, however, for any reason the House failed to elect a President and the Senate fail to elect a Vice President then Secretary of State, P. C. Knox, would become President, whether or not his term would continue four years, or end at the next election would depend upon the action of Congress.

Be Merciful to Thy Brother.

John J. Crittenden, the eloquent Kentucky lawyer of a past generation, was once defending a murder. Every one knew that the man was guilty. A great crowd assembled to attend the trial and listen to the speeches of the many able lawyers engaged on both sides of the case. When Crittenden arose to defend the prisoner silence prevailed in the court room. Every one was eager to hear what the distinguished Kentuckian had to say. After an able argument in behalf of his client, Mr. Crittenden ended his eloquent plea in the following beautiful words:

"When God conceived the thought of man's creation, He called to him three ministering angels, who wait constantly upon the throne—Justice, Truth and Mercy—and thus addressed them:

Shall we make this man?

"O God, make him wot, said Justice, sternly, for he will trample upon Thy law.

And Truth, what sayest thou?

O God, make him not, for none but God is perfect, and he will surely sin against Thee.

And Mercy, what sayest thou?

Then Mercy, dropping, upon her knees, and looking up through her tears, exclaimed:

O God make him; I will watch over him with my care through all the dark paths he may have to tread.

Then, brothers, God made man and said to him: 'O man, thou art the child of Mercy; go and deal mercifully with all thy brothers.'

The man was cleared.

The Man with a Grudge.

Every political party has its internal dissensions. Some grow out of honest differences of opinion, some from intense rivalries and some from mere personal spite. The Democratic party so no more free from such trouble than other parties, but at this moment it can offer better reasons why strife should be buried than any other party. The democracy has the best opportunity for success that has been presented to it in years. It is offering to the people a program of needed reform which it has demonstrated that it can carry out. It is putting principles above men and every man's duty is to forget what is personal in politics and look steadfastly at great truths which bind the party together. Small consideration should be given at this time to the man who parades his personal disappointments and berates his personal foes to the detriment of the party. Nursing grief and keeping old wounds fresh is poor business at any time. It is downright party disloyalty to go into that sort of thing now, when every sign points to Democratic victory in November. The sorehead should be firmly squelched, rivalries should be dropped, differences reconciled, and an unbroken front presented to the enemy.—St. Louis Republican.

Another Good Woman Called Home to The Spirit Land.

Mrs. Fannie May Huffaker wife of Tobias Huffaker died on -- day of Sept. 1912. She was born Apr. 1, 1860. Her maiden name was Wilson, being the daughter of Robert H. and Ermine Wilson.

She was a niece of former Judge A. E. Sallee of this county, and C. M. Sallee who were attorneys of Columbia. At the age of two years Mrs. Huffaker's mother died and she lived with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sallee, until her marriage to Eld. Tobias Huffaker on Dec. 9th 1886. She was educated in the public schools of her community and at Columbia Christian college. She graduated from the last named school 1880, having completed the scientific course of that institution. During her course of study in the college, she took a series of lessons in biblical study, and obeyed the gospel on the day after completing the series. She lived a consistent christian life to the day of her death.

She was a most excellent Christian woman and in all the relations of life she bore her part nobly. Her husband being a preacher and teacher in the Public and High Schools of the country he was of necessity away from home a great deal, and the care of the home and home affairs was largely committed to her, and she was faithful in it all.

She was a devoted wife and mother, a kind and helpful neighbor, and a true and consistent Christian. She leaves to mourn her loss five children, three girls and two boys, all of them survive her but one boy who preceeded her to the better land. She had so impressed her christian character on her children that the daughters are all members of the Church of Christ. Miss Willard the oldest daughter is at her in the public schools of the county of high standing both in efficiency and christian character. May the Father of all grace comfort the lonely husband, the dear children in this saddest bereavement of their lives is the prayer of a true friend.
